

Saanich Commonwealth Recreation Centre Wins “Best of the City” in 3 Categories

Saanich Commonwealth Place won first place for best pool, second place for best recreation centre and third place for best weight room in the Black Press sponsored annual competition to find the “Best in the City”. Commonwealth Pool beat out many other swimming facilities in the region. The awards are based upon votes cast by readers of the Black press publications that include 8 community newspapers including the Saanich News, Victoria News and Goldstream news.

Tom Bryce, Saanich Commonwealth Place’s manager says “it’s all really due to the excellent work of the entire team at our facility”. Tom also went on to say that both he and his staff do not take the award for granted at all, and continually strive to provide excellence in everything they do.

Article submitted by Ron Proskow