

Zomba Kidz Project Update – November 14, 2006

Here are some more photos of construction progress for the new children's community centre in Zomba. The brick work for the exterior walls is in mid-construction.

Saanich is providing other support as well. December will see the teachers completing two weeks of training provided by our partners at Chancellor College. The community is also planning for a new well that we are funding.

So far, we have committed about $37,000 of the over $40,000 which was raised. Any funds left over will go toward resourcing the centre with educational and play materials for the children in 2007, and continuing with the school feeding program.

If you think it's raining a lot here, well the Rainy Season is just beginning for the families in Malawi. They'll be receiving over 700mm of rain from December to March!
